Features & Benefits

Overview

Built as a modular table, Kobi allows you to add additional modules to build bigger workspaces depending the room size or environment. The scalability of Kobi can be utilised throughout collaborative breakout and seminar spaces for ad-hoc BOYD meetings or desktop computer clusters. Kobi has an array of worktop and chassis finishes enabling it to suit a variety of education, corporate and public sector environments.

AV and IT equipment can also be installed within the cable management trays of Kobi to support any worktop connectivity that has been installed. Accessories for Kobi include screen dividers for additional privacy and a screen mount at the end of the table for when large open space collaboration is needed.

*Key Feature*

Cable management tray links all worktops with options for connectivity.
